DEAN'S MESSAGE

Colin Bartley | Acting Senior Dean
Longo Faculty of Business

A new academic year brings fresh, new momentum with students and faculty showcasing excellence through global learning, community impact, and collaboration.

This summer, international study opportunities flourished as 87 students studied abroad in Italy, France, Japan, Taiwan, and London. Culinary and Baking students travelled to Taiwan and Japan for a two-week experience blending technical skill development with cultural discovery. Paralegal and Business Management students also studied abroad, gaining new perspectives on law, business, and innovation. Through faculty-led trips, 2025 became a milestone year for global learning and cross-cultural exchange.

Closer to home, community and collaboration were front and centre. Fashion Management students teamed up with The Salvation Army Thrift Store for Secondhand September, encouraging sustainable fashion choices and responsible consumer habits. Meanwhile, the Longo Centre for Entrepreneurship (CfE) earned Humber's Community Service Award for its exceptional contributions to student success and community partnership. These accomplishments reflect the spirit of the Longo Faculty of Business, one that values creativity, connection, and making a difference both locally and globally.

As we look ahead, these accomplishments highlight the impact of hands-on learning, collaboration, and community engagement in shaping future-ready graduates. Read on for more inspiring stories and achievements.
