The Dean's Message

The Business School's students, alumni and faculty are taking centre stage, showing the business industry the amazing talent and entrepreneurial spirit they possess. This month, one of our Fashion Diploma students launched her shoe line at New York Fashion Week to rave reviews and a Human Resources Management student was awarded the 2018 Rob MacIsaac Fellowship. That's just a small selection of our student's accomplishments this month. Read on to see more successes and triumphs from our hard-working community. Read more >
